Highlights + Google

CyberSmart or CyberSorry

Purpose: Understand what types of information should not be shared online.

Below are different statements about sharing information online. For each statement, circle TRUE or FALSE based on what you know about internet safety.

1. Once I've shared a secret online, I can always control where it goes.

TRUE   FALSE

2. Posting my home address and phone number online is usually safe.

TRUE   FALSE

3. It's important to respect other people's privacy choices, even if they are different from my own.

TRUE   FALSE

4. It's easy to know whether people are who they say they are online or whether they are pretending to be someone else.

TRUE   FALSE

5. People posting or creating content online can decide what to include or leave out. This is called framing.

TRUE   FALSE

6. People's online posts, comments, photos and videos always reflect their true selves.

TRUE   FALSE

7. You should always ask your friends before posting pictures, videos or information about them online.

TRUE   FALSE

8. Sharing passwords online is a good way to build trust with friends.

TRUE   FALSE

9. Different situations call for different levels of privacy, both online and offline.

TRUE   FALSE

10. It's important to think about how different people may interpret the information you share online.

TRUE   FALSE

Answers:
CyberSmart or CyberSorry

1. False. Once you post anything online, it is impossible to always control where it ends up. That's why it's important to be careful what you share.

2. False. It is never safe to share personal information (like your address or phone number) online, even through direct messages or chats to friends.

3. True.

4. False. It is not easy to know what is real and what is fake online. If someone seems questionable, ask a trusted adult whether it might be someone pretending.

5. True.

6. False. Sometimes people don't tell the truth about themselves online.

7. True.

8. False. Even if you trust your friends, you should never share your passwords with anyone unless it's an emergency.

9. True.

10. True.